

DEMO
GRAFIK

We're a collaborative venture that partners with artists and designers to produce imaginative and functional products. This platform brings us together with creators and supporters of our thriving creative and cultural scene. Our inspiring collaboration combines creativity and craft.

Our first line of messenger bags features the works of illustrators Isabel Afable, Dex Fernandez, Kat Yeo, Dan Matutina, and Valerie Chua. Our bags have become canvases of their talent and eye-catching containers of imagination.

Isa Afable combines digital techniques with line drawing, ink, and paint to describe her experiences in bizarrely intricate ways.

She loves escaping into books, dancing with umbrellas, picking out rustic colors, and experiencing an alternate universe.

Dex Fernandez is in love with graphics, typography, and monsters. His work is a mishmash of photography, vintage posters, and tattoo designs.

Kat Yeo is a happy kid who loves painting street cats, make colorful creations, photography, and random explorations.

Dan Matutina is a designer and illustrator based in the Philippines.
He loves mixing colors with different textures & shapes to tell a story.

His illustration style is a mix of handmade & digital, clean & dirty,
old & modern aesthetics.

Valerie Chua is a self-taught illustrator from Manila, specializing in watercolor, gouache and acrylic and is also skilled in traditional and digital collage work.

Her work is predominantly influenced by East Asian watercolor artists and magical realist literature.
